

My name is Paschalis C. Moschos and I am an active lawyer, member of Pavlakis-Moschos & Associates Law Firm. I am a Greek citizen, born in 1990 in Athens, Greece. I am a graduate of the Athens University Law School, Greece, and obtained a post-graduate LL.M diploma from the Queen Mary University of London, UK (2014-2015) in the subjects of maritime law, commercial law, medical negligence and cyberspace law. I have been a member of the Piraeus Bar Association since 2016, practicing as an attorney before the civil First Instance Courts and Courts of Appeal of Greece and all penal and administrative Courts of Greece. I mainly specialize in personal injury cases, with particular experience in Greek and foreign seafarers' accidents, traffic accidents, asbestos exposure cases, medical malpractice and product liability cases.