

Justine Schönfeld-Quinn

Justine practised as a barrister in Ireland before moving to Berlin, Germany in 2015. She Leads the Emissions Reduction team at ClientEarth comprising eight lawyers in four jurisdictions who work on industrial emissions, industrial and agricultural chemicals, and the EU ETS. Our focus is on strategic litigation at national and European level in collaboration with partner organisations, and on EU level advocacy. Before starting at ClientEarth, Justine lectured in law at the Freie Universität Berlin.
