

Sarah Prager KC
Deka Chambers

Sarah Prager KC was called to the Bar of England and Wales in 1997 and was appointed King's Counsel in 2023.

For over twenty years she has specialised in travel and cross border claims, and currently serves as a member of the Admiralty Court Users' Committee and as an advisory expert to the United National World Tourism Organisation on its International Code for the Protection of Tourists.

For many years she has been listed in the UK Bar directories for her expertise in the fields of aviation, personal injury and travel law.

She is now working on a UK Assisted Air Travel Bill to provide protections for disabled air passengers.
